

Sundberg-Olpin Mortuary

Elwood Sundberg, owner and President of the Sundberg-Olpin Mortuary is pleased to welcome Spencer W. Fox to their professional staff. Spencer began his career in the funeral business 20 years ago when he served his apprenticeship with the Sundberg-Olpin Mortuary. He now returns after adding considerably to his professional background and skills as a funeral director with McDougal Funeral Home in Salt Lake City, Olpin Mortuary in Heber City, and most recently Metcalf Mortuary in St. George. His experience includes all phases of mortuary service and general management.

Spencer brings a vast knowledge to our staff, said Elwood Sundberg. He is such a kind, caring person and is an excellent funeral director with fine technical skills.

Spencer attended four years at BYU majoring in biological sciences. He was pursuing a medical career when he became involved with the Sundberg-Olpin Mortuary and elected to continue his education at the California College of Mortuary Science where he graduated with honors. He served an LDS mission to Hong Kong and is fluent in the Cantonese and Mandarin languages and has utilized his language skills in teaching and interpreting. He served as a branch president and as an administrative assistant to the Mission President.

Spencer was born in Coalville, Utah but was raised in Rock Springs, Wyoming. He met his wife, Cindy Erickson, from Hettinger, North Dakota while attending BYU. They have four sons; Brady, 19 (soon to leave on an LDS mission), Casey 15, Tyler 10 and Gentry, 11 months. Spencer's parents are Ellis and Vera Fox from Orem.

The staff of the Sundberg-Olpin Mortuary now includes Elwood and LuJean Sundberg, Kelly and Theresa Sundberg, Spencer and Cindy Fox, Elizabeth H. Sundberg and Shauna S. Bywater (pre-need counselors). 8-16-92 Harold 74.07 cents a pound; August feeder cattle dropped .45 cent to 84.80 cents a pound.

Sales pend

Platinum and gold futures extended the nosedive they took Wednesday as speculative funds unloaded contracts they bought earlier, when the markets were rising.

October platinum deliveries dropped $6.40 to $347.90 a troy ounce on the New York Mercantile Exchange. On New York's Commodity Exchange, August gold fell $4.50 to $334.10 a troy ounce; August silver fell 0.5 cent to $3.762 a troy ounce.

Corn and soybean futures rose moderately on the Chicago Board of Trade after the government forecast lower production than traders expected.

Wheat futures declined slightly after the Agriculture Department, in a crop report late Wednesday, projected wheat production that was slightly above expectations.
